Product Update | S240

The S240 Spectrum Analysis Software is offered free of charge to work with thinkRF R5550 / R5750 real-time spectrum analyzer (RTSA) product lines. This software is meant to demonstrate the features and capabilities of the thinkRF RTSA products as well as basic spectrum monitoring and measurements.

thinkRF will continue to provide the S240 Spectrum Analysis Software for free of charge and assist all customers on how to use it.

This product bulletin notice serves as a formal notice that thinkRF is now discontinuing ongoing development or improvement to the S240 Spectrum Analysis Software as of November 30th, 2022.

For any additional spectrum monitoring capabilities and robustness, please refer to the thinkRF's product portfolio for advanced spectrum and signal analysis solutions which are pre-integrated and certified tested.
